Japanese Sector In Hankow Found Mass Of Ruins By Invaders

(International News Service)
HANKOW, Oct. 26.—Japanese forces occupying Hankow sought today to bring some semblance of order out of the chaos left by the Chinese retreat, while other Nip-ponese returns completed the occupation of the neighboring city of Wuchang.

Two Japanese detachments marched into Wuchang early in the morning but met unexpected resistance once they penetrated the city limits.

Marking the only organized Chinese opposition in the entire Hankow area, Chinese troops hurled themselves at the Nipponese invaders of Wuchang and sanguinary street fighting broke out.

The Japanese forces overpowered the city's defenders, however, and within a few hours gained complete mastery of the city.

Foreigners Safe.

Authorities in Hankow reported that all the 1,000 foreigners in Hankow were safe despite the confusion that attended the flight of Chinese soldiers from the city, native sections of which were left a flaming shambles.

The foreigners, including Americans, were cared for inside the recently established administrative districts, where calm prevailed, and which escaped the worst of the destruction wrought by Chinese troops before they fled.

Only one building in this area was blown up. British sailors removed explosives from other buildings and

Grand Jury Investigation Before Election Improbable

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—The last chapter in the six months' old battle to prevent a grand jury investigation of the Earle administration was to open today before Judge Paul N. Schaeffer.

With all hope of starting the Dauphin county probe before election practically gone, Republican Prosecutor Carl B. Shelly fought now to retain his right to conduct the forthcoming investigation after election.

Shelly was to present his final argument late today. Opposing him was Attorney General Guy K. Bard, prepared again formally to argue before Judge Schaeffer his right to supercede Shelly thus paving the way for the appointment of a prosecutor from outside Dauphin county.

The state supreme court, in ordering the probe to proceed, disqualified Bard as prosecutor and left the final decision on whether Shelly should be superseded up to Judge Schaeffer.

It is the administration's contention that Shelly has been motivated in his actions by "partisan and political" thoughts. This Shelley will again deny.

The king and queen will stop at Callander on their proposed visit to the dominion next May, and their visit will be a sort of birthday pres-five on May 28.

In preparation for the royal visit, the quins already are practicing cortesies and are learning a program of patriotic songs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Having found the WPA in Pennsylvania shot through with political campaigning by Democratic leaders, the senate campaign expenditures committee today turned its spotlight on a "Senator Joseph P. Guffey" letter appealing to federal and state employees for contributions for the Democratic candidates in the Keystone state.

Though Senator Guffey, Gov.
George H. Earle and the Democratic state chairman have flatly denied any connection with the letter that was sent out from the party's state headquarters in August, committee agents were to report their findings to the senatorial group.

Fore Over Guffey Case Poring over the "Guffey case" in secret session were Senators Morris Sheppard of Texas, and David I.
Walsh of Massachusetts, Democrats; and Wallace H. White, Jr., Republican, of Maine.

The committee also had before it for disposition reports from its investigators on charges of alleged irregularities in New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Illinois and California. Most of the charges accused the WPA of "play-

Italy, Germany And Japan Plan New Alliance

(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 26.—The London Daily Mail reported from Rome today that Italy, Germany and Japan have decided to make a new alli-

Communist pact.

The paper said that German For-tropp will carry out the task of concluding the negotiations following his arrival in Rome today.

The anti-Communist pact, accord-

by new articles under which Italy, Germany and Japan will adopt a common policy of European affairs, while their three armed forces will be co-ordinated behind this policy.

Blaze Is Subdued On Big Liner And Ship Proceeds
Unassisted

SEVERAL RESCUE
SHIPS REACH SCENE

Expect Damaged Liner To Reach New York On Friday Night

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 26.— Another saga of the sea was penned today when an heroic crew successfully battled, during a gale off the Newfoundland coast, a fire aboard the German liner Deutschland which continued unassisted on its voyage to New York.

The blaze of undetermined origin, which brought rescue ships in response to an urgent distress signal and their 591 passengers into tense excitement, was extinguished by the crew of 369. At 5:25 a. m. (EST), Capt. Karl Steincke, master of the Deutschland, informed its owners, the Hamburg-American line here:
"Fire extinguished. Passengers and crew well. Proceeding on voyage."

Flames Break Out
The luxury liner had halted about 200 miles southeast of Cape Race, Newfoundland, and about 800 miles off Maine's coastline when flames suddenly burst forth on the ship early last night. Captain Steincke's distress signal, declaring that help was "necessary urgently," indicated that those aboard were faced with one of the worst horrors of the sea.

Heavy seas were running as the crew battled the flames. Three hours passed before the first indication came that the danger was dimish-ing. Then at 1:05 a. m. (EST) came a cheerful message from Captain Steincke, stating:

"Fire under control. Expect to proceed at daylight."

Dawn came and the luxury liner, those aboard praising the heroic work of the crew and satisfied that all danger had passed, resumed its voyage to New York where it is expected to dock either Friday or Saturday.

Honor Is Given Dr. S. E. Irvine

First United Presbyterians Honor Pastor On Twentieth Anniversary

MANY JOIN TRIBUTE TO CHURCH LEADER

Dr. S. E. Irvine, minister of the First United Presbyterian church here for over 20 years, was honored last night when 400 members of his congregation and friends from other churches joined in an impressive public reception for him in the First church on Glenmore boulevard.

Mrs. Irvine shared the reception honors.

Since July of 1918 Dr. Irvine, widely known in this section and prominent in the councils of the United Presbyterian denomination, has been pastor of the First church.
And last night those who are now and those who have been members of the that congregation—and many others—turned out to do Dr. and Mrs. Irvine honor.

The reception opened with a program in the church auditorium, presided over by J. Clyde Gilliam, member of the board of elders of the congregation and chairman of the testimonial affair.

Dr. Charles B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, gave the invocation.

Dr. R. L. Lanning Speaks
Then, Chairman Gilliam introduced Dr. R. L. Lanning, Dr. Ir-vine's predecessor at the First church and now head of all publications of the United Presbyterian denomination at Pittsburgh. Dr.
Lanning spoke informally of past
First church days.

Dr. C. J. Williamson, former pastor of Highland U. P. church, and now a member of the Pittsburgh-Kenia seminary faculty at Pittsburgh, followed Dr. Lanning. He too spoke of the former times in New

Dr. Irvine.

Hallowe'en Parade Will Eclipse Former Efforts

"Very good Eddie" seems to be the answer to the general chairman of the Hallowe'en celebration today Eddie Haines, who has the handle of general chairman broke down and confessed all, admitted that the celebration on Monday night, October 31 would be a stuporific success and said the committee had so much cash on hand for prizes that the judges would get cramps in their arms handing it out.

The Hallowe'en celebration and parade are sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association and the boys have really gone to town in their work. The old idea of merchandise prizes was scrapped and every prize will be in cash. This will save any worry what to do with the prize you win.

Starts At 8 O'clock
Starting at eight o'clock promptly at the Legion Home on North Jefferson street, the parade will move to Washington, up to Croton, to the bridge, over to Neshannock and East streets thence back down Washington street to the Legion Home and disband. The judges' stand will be located at the corner of Mercer and Washington streets. Coupons will be passed out at the judges stand and these will be exchanged for cash at the Legion Home.

The police department in its usual manner will co-operate with the committee to keep the parade on a march open. Marshal Thor V. Davis and his aides will be on the job early to get their arrangements completed.

With decent weather the crowds will be standing on each others shoulders so to speak. Its going to be a real night or as the Frenchman who works at Joe's place says,
"tres jolies!" Which means plenty hot.

District Attorney Park Says Hundreds Of 'Phantoms' Are On Registration List

UNCOVER 142 NAMES IN BLOCK IS REPORT

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—Homestead, for many years a trouble spot in Pennsylvania elections, was back in the news again today.

Hundreds of "phantoms" are on the Democratic registration lists for the November 8 election, it was charged by District Attorney Andrew T. Park. Hundreds of names on the Democratic registration lists for the coming fourth ward election, charged by Park, are fictitious. Park asserted. Apparently, he charged, there was a plot under way by the Democratic administration of the little steel making metropolis to vote hundreds of Negroes illegally in the coming election.

Stumble Upon Evidence
Park said his detectives stumbled upon the phantom names accidentally while conducting a vice-suppression drive. Two Negro women arrested in a disorderly house raid refused to give their correct names to police and when detectives consulted the registration lists in an attempt to identify them they discovered the same after name on the list was fictitious. Park charged.

Uncover 142 Names
Four detectives working one day in one block on one street uncovered 142 names for which no counterpart in the flesh could be found, Park said. For one house which contained two beds and was operated as a disorderly house, nine men and women were listed as qualified electors, the district attorney charged. In another place, a small child was registered as a voter.

Park said action will be taken at once to nullify the "phantoms" and strike their names from the lists. Other wards in the borough will be investigated, he promised.

'GUFFEY LETTER' GETS ATTENTION

vania had been dunned by Democratic campaigners for contributions to the party's election coffers from their work-relief checks.

Democrats Sold Tickets
Evidence that Democratic organizers had sold thousands of tickets to WPA workers for "political meetings" that WPA employees who were Republican campaign buttons were transferred to projects far from their homes and that the government's payroll lists were turned over to Democratic politicians, was found by committee investigators in combing Pennsylvania.

These disclosures by the committee came in sharp contrast with a statement by Deputy WPA Administrator Aubrey Williams that WPA investigators found no evidence to support charges carried in the newspapers—charges filed with the committee.

"We received Mr. Williams' statement and this is our answer," Chairman Sheppard of the Senate committee, told reporters as he handed them the committee's findings.

Committee investigators reported 18 relief workers on a WPA project near Wilkes-Barre, had been transferred to projects far from their homes because they were Republican campaign buttons. After the investigators appeared on the scene, the men were transferred back to projects near their homes and the officials who caused the original transfer was himself sent to a distant project, the committee reported.

Obtained From Government Files
Relief workers in Luzerne county received post cards requesting them to appear at Democratic campaign headquarters and there was evidence to indicate that the mailing list was obtained from government files, the committee statement said.

Furthermore, evidence was said to have been gathered that some of the persons receiving relief work made contributions from their government checks to the Democrats' campaign hope chest. Some gave as much as $100 by request of Democratic headquarters, it was revealed.

"Investigators also reported," said the committee, "that in Northampton county they had obtained evidence that in three cases, either the foreman or the supervisor of a woman's sewing project under the WPA had handed the sale of tickets for three different political gatherings, the tickets being in two instances $1 apiece, and in another instance, $1.50.

Sewing Project Workers Buy Tickets
"The evidence further showed that large numbers of these women on this sewing project purchased tickets."

Foremen and forewomen on WPA projects generally in Luzerne county sold tickets to the reliefers for "political rallies," the committee found. Thousands of tickets were sold at $1 each for a Democratic rally in Hershey, Pa. Charles H. Spangler, chief payroll examiner of WPA for the fifth district in Pennsylvania, distributed about 4,500 of these tickets, the senators found.

The committee sent its investigators back to Pennsylvania to check upon other complaints against Democratic leaders and WPA officials.

Lawrence Participated
Washington, Oct. 26.—David L. Lawrence, chairman of the Pennsylvania Democratic State committee, was revealed by the Senate Campaign Investigating committee today as having participated in preparation of two letters appealing to federal and state employers for campaign contributions.

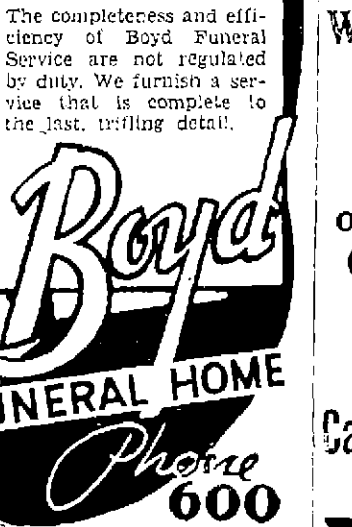

Lawrence had a hand in arranging the issuance of both the so-called "Senator Joseph F. Guffey" letter and a subsequent communication issued over the signature of Oscar D. Deckard, finance chairman of the Democratic State committee, the senate committee announced.

Both letters, written on state committee stationery bearing the names of Senator Guffey and Gov. George H. Earle, the latter Democratic senatorial nominee, have been branded violations of the U. S. criminal code by the senate committee.

sliding in his fight to keep Republican Charles Telford from winning a senatorial seat in Ohio.

Accuses Dies Committee
He charged that the Dies committee, in a quest for headlines, had "permitted itself to be used in a flagrantly unfair and un-American attempt to influence an election"—this by letting "a disgruntled Republican judge, a discharged Republican city manager and a couple of officious police officers make lurid charges against Governor Murphy" in connection with his handling of the automobile sit-down strikes two years ago.

Murphy was charged by the Dies committee witnesses with cowardice and treasonable action because he failed to call out the National Guard to enforce a court injunction ordering the election of sit-down strikers at Flint.

The president said that he, the auto manufacturers, labor leaders and the press had been kept fully advised of Murphy's step-by-step efforts to settle the strike without bloodshed, which ultimately were crowned with success. Murphy did not call out the National Guard, said the president, only because the National Guard officials assured him there would be rioting and bloodshed if that drastic step was taken.

Speaking of the Dies committee, which he said had made no effort to get at the facts behind the charges against Murphy or to permit rebuttal testimony, the president declared:

"Most fair-minded Americans hope that the committee will abandon the practice of merely providing a forum to those who for political purposes, or otherwise, seek headlines, which they could not otherwise obtain. Merely providing a forum has been barred in court since the American system of legislative and judicial procedure was started."

fires in buildings which had been put to the torch began to abate with the aid of a steady drizzle of rain.

In the ruined native quarters of Hankow, however, occasional explosions were still heard as the flames set off dynamite placed to destroy the city as far as possible in accordance with the Chinese "scorched earth" tactics.

Japanese Section In Ruins
Streets of the Japanese concession, which bore the brunt of the Chinese wrath, were a mass of debris and were virtually deserted.

The Japanese consulate and navy headquarters both were blown up. In the city's outskirts, machine gun fire was still audible as the Japanese pursued Chinese strategists seeking to escape from the dragnet set for them.

Nevertheless, despite this sporadic shooting and sniping, Japanese authorities said they were meeting virtually no opposition in Hankow, and that the Chinese resistance in Wuchang had been quelled.

It was expected that by tomorrow the Japanese forces would be in control of every quarter of this sprawling city and of a large section of the entire Wuhan area.

It appeared, however, that months of work would be required to restore Hankow to anything like its former appearance. The Chinese exodus was accompanied by burnings and dynamiting of public buildings, wrecking of military store houses, and complete destruction of all Japanese property.

Mr. Roosevelt was "wholly misinformed," Dies charged, in declaring that the committee allowed itself to be used in a "flagrant" attempt to defeat Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan.

Dies asserted that the Roosevelt administration had refused to comply with the request of congress that the committee be provided with adequate personnel.

Declaring that Mr. Roosevelt has not read the testimony, Dies proposed creation of a commission to decide whether evidence before the committee is proper.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LIMIT NIGHT FUNCTIONS

In four different states recently parents have asked me, following a lecture, why schools in some places carry on so many activities for children at night. Some report that many school children have, on the average, two or more school functions every night. It may be practice for a play, band or orchestra, or rehearsals for numerous entertainments. A few, also, have made like complaints about night functions for children at churches.

One father said, "It seems that the school is trying to take the child from the home more and more." Most of these evening activities at school are in and of themselves very wholesome, and carried on by self-sacrificing individuals. But for the health and general welfare of children, they do appear, in places, to be excessive.

It seems to me that they should be limited to Friday or Saturday nights. For children under junior high school age, they ought to be very rare.

Evenings At Movies

Unfortunately, many school children, even under high school age, spend one or several evenings a week at the movies. Thanks to the P. T. A., there is a slowly-growing sentiment among the more discerning parents to limit away-from-home pleasures to Friday and Saturday nights. Yet, this sentiment is not nearly universal.

Then there are exceptional cases which arise. Suppose it is a circus and Wednesday evening is the only one when you can go with your children in the elementary grades. You should go, I believe, and it might be well to have them miss the next half-day of school. But almost some school systems, even by state law, stupidly require that you would have to be in the excuse you write for these children.

Now and then a special trip of mother and daughter, or of dad and son, together, might be of more value to the child than a whole month at school. Such school rules are easy for the records, but hard for the soul. They assume that practically all parents are irresponsible, and that parent-child comradeship is not at all important.

What have been your observations?

ALIKE BUT DIFFERENT

Adolph Hitler has much in common with the House of Hohenzollern, but he probably lacks the sense of humor possessed by Frederick the Great.

One day Frederick was riding along the street in Berlin and noticed a crowd staring at a paper stuck high upon the wall. Drawing nearer he saw it was a satirical cartoon, depicting him as having a monopoly on coffee, turning a coffee grinder with one hand and greedily picking up a single bean from the ground.

Turning to an orderly, he said: "Take down the paper and hang it lower, so that people need not strain their necks looking at it."

Then there was Frederick William I of Prussia, who was absolutely indifferent to the intellectuality of his political agents, many of whom served more than one master.

"When it was once pointed out to him that one man was in his pay as well as that of France, he said: "I know that France bribes my people. Very well. If the people of France are so foolish as to pension my subjects, the latter ought to accept. The money will come to this country and the recipients and their children will spend it here, but if they think they can fool me, they are very much mistaken."

Adolph would not subscribe to that philosophy either. Adolph yields an axe upon all suspected spies.

I may not like the ordered ways Which she has charted out for me. But still in peace of mind I pay If I, "in principle, agree."

What's What At A Glance

Difference In Anti-New Dealers
Wheeler Is Not Same As Others
Was Once Known As Wild Radical

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 22.—

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana is a different kind of anti-New Dealer from all the rest. Old-line Republicanism naturally is anti-New Deal. There are up-to-date Republicans who say it is too much so; that their party, in fact, never can effect a come-back until it modernizes itself. Still, even these latter are anti-New Dealers.

However, Wheeler can't flock with them. He isn't a Republican of any imaginable type. There also are many Democrats upon whom the New Deal looks askance. Upon an average I always have considered Democrats as somewhat more liberal than Republicans. Nevertheless, quite a few Democrats are of less conservative as the more liberal type of Republicans. Such are the Democrats whom the White House would have liked to purge. But even they profess to be mainly pro-New Deal. They're the "yes, but" crowd. Wheeler is no "yes, but" crowd. Wheeler is no "yes, but" crowd.

He's a flat-footed "no-er." True, he approves New Deal objectives. He says they're "perfect," but he draws the line unqualifiedly upon all New Deal methods.

Neither does he classify with such mavericks as Senators George W. Norris and Henrik Shipstead or the LaFollettes. Originally a so-called Democrat, he never was much of an orthodox Democrat, and now he speaks of himself as an independent; yet he's an independent in a category all by himself.

Wild Radical? What?

Burton says accurately that he formerly was spoken of as a wild radical.

He was wild enough to run in second place on the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette's Progressive party ticket in 1924.

He was wilder than that. He was wild enough to act as defense attorney for various violent Reds on trial for their activities in Montana in almost revolutionary days in the mining country. He fought the "anti-Red" in his region in days when it took a deal of nerve to take labor's side.

He took a trip to Russia in the early revolutionary era. On his return he interviewed him and he told him what he saw. "But," he added, "be a little careful how you quote me. To be sure, I wish that regime well. All the same, you're aware that I'm described here as a communistic propagandist. Don't make it too strong."

As of current writing Burton K. is claimed by anti-New Deal elements as their out-and-out leader on Capitol Hill.

There are liberals who oppose the New Deal. The conservatives oppose it, of course. Wheeler happens to serve their common purpose. They'll disagree later, but at the moment, both need him. He fits their situation.

It goes almost without saying that he's a horror to the New Deal.

He's backed up by a record. I don't believe for an instant that he's backed up on any of his principles. His utterances don't sound a bit like it. As chairman of the Senate's Interstate Commerce committee he has just finished an investigation of the nation's railroads, and his conclusions are overwhelmingly in the public's and of railroad labor's favor. Rail workers' sentiment is 100 per cent in his favor.

But he isn't pro-administration. Well, he has what I've heard him mention as "intestinal fortitude."

The railroad management don't like him, of course.

Neither does the administration. He has a couple of years yet to serve. He won't be purged in November, anyway.

IN ADDITION, Mr. Hopkins had personally taken part in the primaries of one State in which he does not live and is now generally recognized as one of the chief political advisers of the President. He sits in on the White House and Hyde Park political conferences; takes part in forming political strategy. Though, above all other Federal officials, he should be free from any trace of political partisanship or active political interest, he is in Administration politics up to his neck. This example of crass partisanship which Mr. Hopkins has set makes his "perforated" rebukes and one-sided "investigations" of the numerous charges of political participation upon the part of minor and subordinate officials completely farcical. The fact is that all over the country the WPA organization has become a political instrument, is being used as such, is recognized as such.

IT IS particularly being used as such in this campaign. And yet when President Roosevelt comes near the word "act" or "put an end to what amounts to a great national scandal," the other day at his press conference, when his attention was invited to the New Mexico indictments, his only comment was that such things are bound to happen and the wrongdoers should, of course, be prosecuted. Then he went on to talk of other things. There did not come from him at any time, a single indictment were aimed at the conditions which he had pledged himself to prevent. At no time has he exhibited any sign of repentance and, though in 1935 he asked for criticism and insisted he wanted to know of any "improper practices" in the WPA, he has never taken the slightest notice of the tremendous stream of criticism which has poured in—a lot of it from Democratic Senators and some of it from his supporting newspapers.

ON THE CONTRARY, he has treated a state of affairs which has been reflected in the whole press of the country, of which every politician is aware and of which the Congressional Record is full, as though it did not exist. And he has made of Mr. Hopkins, who under these accusations maintains a general attitude of denial but truthfully tells friends at rare cracks that "We are

They were noble words because within the past four months evidence of an overwhelming nature has accumulated to show that Federal relief has become thoroughly saturated with politics. In a striking article in the current Atlantic Monthly summing up the facts, Mr. Lawrence Sullivan asserts that "politics plays a part in the distribution of relief funds to the States; that politics plays a part in the selection of WPA projects; that politics plays a part in the selection of administrative personnel; all of which is entirely well known to every posted person in Washington."

SINCE the article appeared, seventy-three persons, including members of the family and office staff of a United States senator, have been indicted in one State for padding WPA pay rolls and diverting WPA funds; charges have been made in another State that Federal relief has become a complete political racket; and in others that money for political purposes is being collected from WPA workers. Prior to the article a Senate committee had presented proof of the use of WPA in the primaries of several other States; the head of the WPA, Mr. Hopkins, and his assistant, Mr. Williams, repeatedly had made public statements the effect of which was to tell those on the relief rolls how they were expected to vote.

Grade Crossing Removal To Cost State Huge Sum

Highway Department Allocates Three Millions For Work Next Year

NEARBY COUNTIES WILL GET BENEFIT

By ROY E. BROWN, MILLER
HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—The Department of Highways, continuing its campaign for elimination of hazards to life and limb at railroad crossings, has drawn up a program involving expenditure of more than $3,000,000 for such improvements next year.

Since the beginning of this administration, the Department, with the aid of the Federal Government, has completed 90 projects that abolished dangerous grade crossings, overhead bridges and underpasses at a total cost roughly estimated at $20,000,000. Next year's program will remove some of the most dangerous railroad intersections remaining in the State.

The 1939 program, approved recently by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, includes 13 grade crossing projects. Plans for each job are expected to be completed by November and it is expected that they will be started in the Spring. The Federal Government has been asked to provide $2,825,864 of the estimated total cost of $3,029,468.

Including among the projects in western Pennsylvania and the estimated cost of each are:

Beaver County—Reconstruction of an existing underpass on the Pennsylvania Railroad in Mercer, outside of Beaver Falls, $249,068.

Mercer County—Undergrade separation on the Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad at Greenville to eliminate a grade crossing, $150,000.

The aviation building at the New York World's fair in 1939 will represent an ultra-modern airport administrative structure.

Dinner Club Program Will Be Featured By Exceptional Entertainment

ARTHUR F. BRIESE

Arthur F. Briese, of Chicago, known as America's "Knight of Satire," will be the guest speaker at the Scottish Rite dinner in the Cathedral, Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Hailed as an exceptional speaker and entertainer, "Art" as he is affectionately known, is said to present a rare highlight of the American Rite. He has a bias of a trail of popped off vest buttons from coast to coast.

Commander-in-Chief S. Reed McGowan says everyone he has asked about Briese immediately bursts into such uncontrollable laughter that he has been unable to get a coherent story as to just how he does it. At any rate, it looks like skulduggery at the crossroads, and a large attendance is looked for who are promised no disappointment in the way of entertainment.

Following the chicken dinner, and Art Briese's program, a motion picture will be presented, with dancing and cards as the concluding feature.

Reservations are coming in fast, but for this program will be left open until Thursday morning, giving all who desire, an opportunity to attend. Every member of the Masonic fraternity is eligible for this party.

New Castle Police Radio Station Operates Steadily

Local police department radio operates locally although there are times when WPGT, which is the signal for the New Castle police can converse with Massillon, O. When the station was first placed in operation, all police messages between this city and Youngstown were carried via the air. However, this communication was later abandoned.

It was abandoned because the State Police "teletype" system was extended to Youngstown.

The radio station was installed during the administration of Charles B. Mayne, John F. Haven was police chief. In addition the cruiser car system was installed.

The police cruisers, detectives special car and the motorcycle were equipped with radios.

There was some talk of installing a two-way radio police radio system here. However, it has been installed and present communications extend only from the police sergeants to the car operators.

There are two officers in each car. The radio is kept tuned in. Both police do not leave the car at the same time unless the services of both are required.

They must receive every signal and report the time of its receipt. Should they not receive a signal they know their receiving set is out of order and telephone the news to headquarters.

All the sergeants passed a test to send messages over the air. Only those who have passed the examination are permitted on the station.

The call for the New Castle police is WPGT and the station operates on a frequency of 2482 kilocycles.

Our two fine hospitals, the New Castle and the Jamieson, make their first consideration that of saving ing human life when in danger.

Race, creed, wealth or poverty is not considered when a human life is hanging by a thread. The life is saved if possible. The financial support of our Community Chest makes such deeds somewhat easier, as medicine, upkeep and equipment must be met with money. Many patients cannot pay.

The Salvation Army and City Rescue Mission do outstanding work. Both organizations give to the needy food and clothing for body and also food for the soul as each is well known for its religious efforts. With our Community Chest's aid we make happier homes through these organizations for children to live in.

The Community Chest also with its far seeing eye builds character, straight thinking, usefulness, good sportsmanship and self reliance in children by assisting Boy and Girl Scouts and both the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

Or with the Community Chest: Children of today are the law makers of tomorrow. Right thinking children grow into right thinking American citizens making these United States a nation of which we are proud today—tomorrow—forever.

Fall Is Season To Plant Nuts

Bogardus Outlines Procedure For Planting Walnuts And Hickory Nuts

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—Secretary James P. Bogardus of the State Department of Forest and Waters, today said that the best time to plant walnut and hickory nuts is in the autumn, soon after the fruit ripens and falls.

"Seeds should always be planted on the site where the trees are expected to remain," Bogardus advised. "Both hickories and walnuts are difficult to transplant because of the long tap root which they develop during the first year and are frequently injured in transplanting."

"The hulls of the nuts should be broken open or entirely removed before planting. A good place to plant walnuts and hickories is in abandoned fields along fence rows near camping sites in open spots in the forest. Moist, fertile sites where the small trees will obtain plenty of sunlight should be selected."

Fall Session Of U. P. Presbytery

Beaver Valley Presbytery Meets Tuesday In Beaver Falls Church

REV. WILL ORR
NEW MODERATOR

Rev. Will Orr, pastor of the First U. P. church of Beaver Falls, was elected moderator of Beaver Valley Presbytery on Tuesday afternoon at the closing session of the fall meeting in the Steffen Hill church. He will take office at the April meeting in Oak Grove church, Lawrence county, succeeding Rev. Harold C. Smith of Steffen Hill.

Rev. Ray Woodburn of Mt. Jackson was elected vice-moderator of the United Presbyterian body. Other business of the day included election of delegates to General Assembly which will convene in May at Philadelphia; their names follow:

Rev. C. D. Fulton, Beaver; Rev. Thomas E. Graham, Ambridge; Rev. H. Parker Smith, Allegheny; and Rev. A. J. Randles, Pittsburgh. As alternates, Rev. C. C. Johnston, Rev. Ray Woodburn, Rev. H. C. Smith and Rev. C. J. Williamson were chosen. The Bethel, Mt. Jackson, Rocky Springs and Racoon congregations were assigned as the churches to furnish elder-delegates to the assembly.

Action was taken to change the presbytery by-laws so as to provide for election of moderator and vice-moderator at the October meeting, with the new officers to take their seats in April. Heretofore the officials have been inducted on the day of their election and have had no time to name committees, etc.

The financial agent reported $12,000 subscribed on the mission budget.

The superintendent of missions reported three vacancies, at the Bethel, Mahoning and combined Hanover-Mt. Pleasant-Service churches. The period of O. R. Stang as stated supply at Camp Run was extended indefinitely.

Rev. L. F. Patterson was given a transfer to the Mansfield Presbytery. He has been preaching at the Fresno, O. U. P. church. Rev. H. V. Wright was transferred to Oklahoma Presbytery where he has accepted a call to the Roosevelt and Blair congregations.

A committee comprising Rev. B. M. Wallace of Center church, Rev. S. E. Cautley of Wirtzburg was appointed to discuss overtures at the next presbytery meeting. One of these overtures concerns a pension fund which all congregations would vote upon and the other a change in the method of pastoral settlements.

Paul Graham, son of Rev. T. E. Graham of Ambridge and a student at Princeton Theological seminary, was taken under care of the presbytery. The presbytery has one other student under its care, Paul Willis, son of Rev. W. W. Willis of New Gallie.

All-Association Dinner Planners Meet Last Night

Pageant Will Be Program Feature At Y. W. C. A. Affair November 17

Mrs. Betty Glover Green and her committee for the Y. W. C. A. All-Association dinner, at a meeting Tuesday night in the Y. W. C. A. building, made preliminary plans for the presentation of a pageant at the dinner, which will take place in the cathedral on November 17.

The pageant, "Calling All Nations," was used successfully by the Chicago Y. W. C. A. Each club of the local association is being asked to assign two of its members, with good speaking voices, to take part. The first rehearsal will be next Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Eight countries, Syria, China, Japan, India, Mexico, Argentina, Poland and Italy, will be portrayed in the pageant.

The annual dinner will be a turkey affair as usual, with all members of the association, and all club and class members, bringing their own food and dishes. The dinner always brings together a large crowd of women and girls.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

the chestnut trees in this section were killed off about twelve years ago by a peculiar blight. In some parts of the state, they are starting to grow again, however, having come up from seedlings.

Schools all over this section of the country are reporting record enrollments this year. Whether this is due to the fact that there is an increased desire on the part of the young people for more education, or whether it is due to the fact that young people have a more difficult time securing employment is not known. It is probably due to some of both. According to statistics, one person in every four in this country is either a teacher or student. In other words, upwards of thirty million persons are attending common school, high school, or college, with about a million employed as teachers.

Two more weeks and one will be able to turn on the radio without hearing some political mouthpiece scandal-mongering his fellow citizen who happens to be running for office. To hear some of these people talk, every politician who is on the other side of the fence should have been put in the penitentiary at the age of 12 and kept there for life. Fortunately the great American public does not pay too much attention to what is said about the other fellow during a campaign, and pays a little more attention to the planks in the parties.

A barking dog in the vicinity of the corner of East street and Neshannock avenue, is a bit difficult for passersby to locate. Upon looking skyward, the pup can be seen howling, running the length of a roof, barking at people for pastime. Its his backyard.

It takes outsiders to make us fortunate residents of America be more appreciative of our country and its beauties. A couple visiting here from England, marveled at the beautiful country, when crossing the states from New Jersey to New Castle. The mountains, and the colors of autumn in the leaves, are so very beautiful. They have left for New York, and when they sail on Saturday, they will take with them, some impressive memories of "Beautiful America."

The driving classes conducted by the Motor Police, are overflowing. Persons are really interested in learning how to drive, and to know all the answers of situations that may arise. In addition to the lessons used for changing a tire, those enrolled, state the instruction is most interesting and worthwhile. It requires a two week period.

Have you ever wished through the October leaves on horseback? If you haven't, you have missed one of the greatest thrills afforded to man. It may seem like an anachronism to travel over the country on horseback nowadays, but Pa Newc would turn down a ride in a Rolls Royce for one hour on a well trained saddle horse.

Lots of the local ladies have blossomed forth in their fur coats and jackets during the past week or so. Pa has observed. November is practically upon us and it is well to be prepared. Pa Newc is digging around in the moth balls at home in search of his ear muffs.

Both Christmas and New Year's Day come on Sunday this year. There are just 66 more days left in 1938.

"What is swing?" In the course of a conversation the other day, Pa Newc shot that question to Fred Moser of Butler avenue, song-composer son of New Castle's well known writing teacher, Prof. J. L. Moser. "It is the playing of something that isn't," the Butler avenue man replied. He explained swing, then, in a musician's lingo and gathered that a part of the orchestra plays the melody; others play a counter melody; a large helping of improvisation is thrown in, and the result is—swing.

The month of October spells romance for some folks. Strollers in couples can be seen almost anytime during the day, at Cascade Park. The autumn is much in evidence, and the natural beauty of the park, is without a doubt, an exquisite sight.

Registration of voters in the different boroughs of the county shows that Volant, with 141, has the smallest number. Ellwood City heads the list with 4,480. Bessemer is the next largest with 2,288. New Wilmington has 597, Wampum, 468; South New Castle borough, 369; Ellport 325; and Snout 205. These figures include male and female voters of all parties in each borough.

Out at Portersville there is a pet raccoon at a big garage just on this side of the village. A visitor there recently says that the raccoon has a pup for a playmate. They got into a little scrimmage, and after a long spell decided to rest. The raccoon, following the instincts of his family, went to a pail of water and washed his paws, soiled in the chitter dust of the playground. The puppy looked on with absorbing interest, and then caught the idea. He, too, went to the water pail and washed his paws.

Real estate dealers say that there is a trend away from large houses in New Castle. Persons desiring to rent or buy invariably are more interested in the smaller type house, around six rooms, with modern conveniences. One objection to the large houses seems to be that they are taxed higher, and another, that they are harder to heat. Some owners of large houses are solving the problem by turning them into duplexes. An east side man has just started to work changing two on Walnut street.

Fifteen little violets, that evidently don't know it is fall instead of spring, are blooming on the C. W. Beerbover property on the New Wilmington road.

Nearly everybody knows that when walking on the highway the pedestrian should face traffic, but there are a large number of people who do not take this precaution. The state highway department is just now starting a campaign designed to educate people in the right direction. Parents and teachers can help a lot by not only instructing children but by questioning them to see if their instructions are heeded.

It is very seldom that one can go out into his garden at this time of the year and pick ripe tomatoes, but one of Pa Newc's boys, in cleaning up his old garden last night, found a half-dozen of the luscious summer vegetables. Grass, which had grown about the vines, had protected them from the frost.

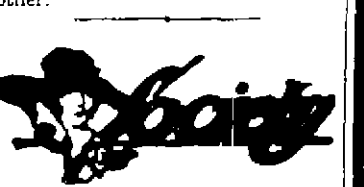

Are you aware that twenty-five cents out of each dollar you earn is now being paid out for taxes? It doesn't matter whether you own your home or rent, it's just the same. You pay taxes on practically everything you eat or wear. About the only things that are still free are the air and sunshine, but if this tax business goes on, you may soon have meters on your nose and skull.

A local physician informs Pa Newc that he noticed in a medical journal recently, that there are six times more stemmers among men than women. That's not hard to explain; they probably got that way trying to get their say across under difficult circumstances.

While Halloween is much in the atmosphere Pa Newc upon visiting the farmer yesterday, discovered he is much concerned in the progress of his flock of turkeys. Thanksgiving is just around the corner.

Evidently making a stop-over on the trip southward, a large flock of birds settled in the trees of the Public Square late Tuesday afternoon. The birds made a noticeable racket until they got settled for their stay.

Pa Newc has observed this week, that a surprisingly large number of cars are carrying but one license plate—either front or rear—even though state law requires both. Drivers who lose one tag should make immediate application for another.

News Briefs From City Hall

Dogs barking and howling caused annoyance in different sections of the city last night and today the dog-catcher was armed with orders from Police Chief Ralph A. Griswell to visit such vicinities and take unleashed dogs into custody.

City police whiffed to Chestnut street last night in response to a complaint that two "foreknives" were attempting to enter a house. They apparently were frightened away before the police could reach the scene.

Police have received a report of J. Miles, 28 Wayne street, having been bitten on his leg by a dog in Neshannock avenue.

They are being quizzed by Police Chief Ralph A. Griswell and Detective Chief Ray Showalter concerning recent thefts.

Police received a report someone was attempting to steal from the car, Showalter and Patrolman Alliger sped from headquarters and reached the spot just as Evan Wilkins seized one of the boys. The other fled but was later captured by Patrolmen Alliger and Price.

Sadie V. Murphy, of 735 Lathrop street, has filed an application at the probatory office for a divorce from her husband, Lester Murphy, on the grounds of desertion and cruelty. The last known address of Murphy was in Shenango township. The couple were married in August, 1928.

The commonwealth of Pennsylvania has filed a suit in the probatory office against Ellen Eskew, late of 620 Etna street, and Susie Wheale and Wilma McWilliams, heirs and next of kin, to recover from the Eskew estate money advanced to Mrs. Eskew during her lifetime from the Public Assistance fund. The amount of the claim is for $782.

Under the Public Assistance act set up the state is entitled to recover advances made where the person to whom the money is paid is the owner of property. The petition states that no letters of administration had been taken out on the Eskew estate.

There is a rush at the county treasurers office this week for hunting licenses. Under a new ruling of the game commission hunters applying for license this year, and who are not known to the treasurer or assistants, must establish their identity. This they can do by producing a bank book, a social security card, registration card, drivers license, army discharge, or any other evidence to show that they are the persons who are applying for licenses.

Probationary and Clerk of Courts, John A. Edgar, gets many letters from persons inquiring for certification of marriage license records and birth certificates. These are wanted in other localities for the purpose of qualifying applicants for assistance, naturalization, divorces, registrations and other data. The records here, so far as marriage licenses are concerned, go back to 1895, when the marriage license law became effective. There are no records of marriages in the court house previous to that time. In the matter of birth certificates, there are no records previous to 1905.

A batch of resignations from election boards are anticipated between now and election day, owing to the fact that no W. P. A. worker, city, county, or state official is eligible to serve on an election board, according to Registration Clerk, Thomas Edmunds. There are probably few, if any, officials on election boards, but it is believed that there are a number of W. P. A. workers.

Will of the late Margaret E. Graham of the second ward, has been admitted to probate by Register and Recorder, Orville Potter. After making some bequests for the purpose of equalizing advances made during her lifetime, Mrs. Graham leaves her property to be distributed equally among her sons, Roy Edward Graham, Herbert Joseph Graham and William H. Graham.

The bunkroom is located in the police garage. It has a cement floor, iron cots and is steam-heated. It is much warmer than the jail cells which are separated by a wall.

Five thousand explanatory pamphlets on the new federal wage-hour law, put into effect Monday, have been received by the state's Unemployment Compensation and Employment Service office in the Citizens bank building for general distribution. It is announced.

"We will mail them out to any one who makes a request," Branch Manager Joseph R. Hensley said, "or anyone can get them by stopping in."

The booklets, issued by the U. S. department of labor, fully explain the Fair Labor Standard Act of 1938. Other interpretations, rules and regulations, the pamphlets say, are to be issued from time to time.

Collectors Object To Use Of Old Newspapers As "Bed Covers"

Ancient custom of bunkroom lodgers using old newspapers as a "mattress" may pass out of existence providing the department of garbage employees have their way.

They claim that insects from the clothing of lodgers sometimes infest the newspapers and when they collect the newspapers the insects sometimes crawl upon their clothing.

Recently they complained to their superior, Ed Umbright, and he informed Mayor Charles E. McGrath that cardboard would be a more suitable and much cleaner "mattress" for garbage employees to remove.

The bunkroom, built by the WPA last year, is now being used. Each

Good Meals And Good Lighting Go Hand In Hand

Flexible lighting in this dining room enhances the table setting and adds to mealtime pleasure.

THE DINING ROOM, scene of family meals and feasts, is blossoming out into new beauty these days.

On blueprints it is now frequently drawn with provisions for new types of artificial lighting for the evening hours, and with large windows or French doors framing a garden view by day.

Gone, along with dark walls and plate racks, is the old idea of tucking a dining room into the middle of a house, with little thought of its daytime view or nighttime lighting. In fact, one of the most marked improvements in today's dining room is its new lighting, installed to make the room more attractive and the diners more relaxed and happy.

Pockets of light may decorate the walls, as in the accompanying photograph, to lift a room from depressing darkness when candlelight is used on the table.

The ceiling fixture may depart from the ordinary, as this one does, by giving three different amounts of light, from a single three-lit bulb, as the turn of the knob at the base. The lowest amount is used for dining, the highest for games, study, or reading.

A dramatic effect can be produced by two spotlights concealed in the ceiling. The spotlights are adjusted so that their rays, flowing through two small inconspicuous holes, exactly fit the table cloth, with not a drop spilling over the edge. Glassware and silver sparkle, and the reflected light from the table cloth is complimentary to the faces of the diners.

Lambrequins and cornices may be built over dining room windows and doorways, so that within them can be concealed tubular luminaire bulbs. The light, as it falls on curtains or rich draperies, sets a pleasant mood for dining.

A new lighting style that can be applied to any dining room is the use of twin torchiere lamps in opposite corners of the room. Instead of the usual lamp shade these have an ornamental bowl in which is a three-lit bulb. They give smooth indirect lighting.

And do you have in your dining room a four or five-candle fixture? I have a suggestion on a way to improve it.

Simply get parchment, plastic or silk shades for each candle. These needn't be expensive ones. With a 40-watt bulb in each shade, the lighting of the dining room can be much improved.

We all like good meals. And I'm sure we all like good lighting too, when we have it available. The two can go hand in hand.

Reservations received for the Apollo Club reunion which will be held Saturday night, October 29, at the Castleton Hotel. Indicate there will be an attendance of about 75. The reunion is the first to be held in a number of years and the interest from the old time glee club members presages a big time.

One of the former accompanists, Justin Williams, who has made a name for himself in the concert and studio field in New York and Washington has written that he will be there. The appearance of Williams means a group of piano numbers that will be top flight.

The program will contain a few speeches, a lot of songs and many glee numbers. The same director who guided the club through 12 seasons of concert work, Richard E. Johns will handle the baton.

Enrollment At Geneva At Peak

Number Of Students Now Enrolled At Beaver County School Reaches Limit

(Special To The News)
BEAVER FALLS, Oct. 26.—Enrollment at Geneva College this year has reached the maximum limit of 500 fixed by the board of trustees some few years ago. This number tapers the seating capacity of the chapel in Old Main and is all that can be adequately cared for in the classroom space of the various college buildings.

Judged by the results of the English and psychology tests given the 182 entering students orientation week, it is said that they are of a comparatively high type and are even more than keeping up the reputation of the college in gradually raising her standard of scholarship. It is to be the ambition of the board of trustees and others of the administrative staff of the college, not so much to increase the student body but rather to train those who constitute it from year to year for ever-increasing efficiency in the work to which they expect to devote their lives.

Lionel Barrymore Now Recovering

May Be Able To Return To Screen Within Two Or Three Months

By MILTON HARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1938)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26.—Fears of health would force retirement of Lionel Barrymore were dispelled today by physicians' reports he has made such rapid progress under special treatment he may be able to return to the screen within two or three months.

For more than a year Barrymore has suffered from an ailment to his left leg, partially caused by arthritis and partially by an injury he sustained in a wrestling match many years ago.

In his last picture Barrymore was able to work in a wheel chair because the role called for it. He was obliged, however, to turn down the role of Scrooge in "The Christmas Carol" in favor of Reginald Owen because he could not do the required walking. The studio offered to postpone the picture for another year, but Barrymore insisted Owen replace him because "the world needs The Christmas Carol" now as it never needed it before.

Barrymore spent weeks under treatment at Arrowhead Springs, Cal., and since his return he has continued them daily at a hospital near his home. Marked progress has resulted, it was said today.

While the studio has no scheduled parts for him, officials there said today they expected he would be able to go in two pictures in January or February.

Dr. Daffoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TONSILS AND ADENOIDS

The tonsil and adenoid season is rapidly descending upon us, and now is the time to prepare for these, most troublesome of diseases. Tonsillitis seems to reach a peak in the days when autumn is giving way to winter, and it is at this time that not only children but adults as well should beware.

Start building yourself and your child up now to resist cold germs. For if you can keep the vicious cold-adenoids-tonsil circle from getting started, you need seldom worry about operations.

Don't think that just because your child is young, there is no danger. The quintuplets were barely a year and a half old when they first gave signs that their tonsils and adenoids were all ready to give us trouble.

We knew what we had to do to prevent trouble, and religiously we have done it.

Every day their diets have been carefully supervised to build up their resistance to the germs that cause diseased tonsils and adenoids. We have gone on the idea that while it is often necessary to remove tonsils and adenoids, too, a strong, healthy body makes it a great deal harder for the germs to get a foothold. So the quintuplets get ample helpings of fruit juices and cod-liver oil; plenty of sleep and fresh air. When they contract colds we don't administer any curative remedies; we double their ration of fruit juices, increase rest periods, see that they have normal elimination.

When something does go wrong with the tonsils, when your child's breathing shows that his adenoids are enlarged, then see your doctor at once. He is the one who will know what to do; whether disease is so strongly entrenched in the organ that an operation is necessary, or whether by proper treatment the organs can be preserved in a healthy state.

Remember, tonsils and adenoids weren't given us just to be removed. They have a purpose to serve. They aren't, as so many think, growths in the throat; they are lymphoid tissue that is supposed to aid in fighting infection. It is only when they themselves get diseased that they cause us any trouble.

When these glands swell it means that they are fighting disease; they are busy stopping infection. Very often the other glands of the neck take up this work, too. If they become a nest of infection they break down, causing horrible running sores. In the older days this was very common; older readers will no doubt recall people of their acquaintance who have been so disfigured.

Medical science today has almost eliminated this. Another fairly common sign, too, were necks scarred from operations as surgeons opened swollen glands in an attempt to eliminate the infection. Unfortunately in many cases this only gave outside germs a chance and so blood-poisoning or tuberculosis very often resulted.

The quintuplets have had a few attacks of tonsil troubles in spite of the care they have had. Last summer they were quite ill for a couple of weeks. So ill, in fact, that we couldn't let them be seen by the public. We find that the common cold, and its first cousin, tonsillitis, are about the only complaints that bring the children to their beds.

This summer it was amusing to see the way they acted even when they were quite ill. Everything they do is a game. So it was when I was examining them. I would no more than finish with the examination before they would be imitating me. They pretended to have stethoscopes to listen to each other's breathing, and with imaginary flashlights they peered anxiously down throats. One day I had Dr. Alan Brown, Toronto child specialist, with me. He had the stethoscope attached to his ears when Annette grabbed it and tried to talk through it. She thought it was a telephone.

In tomorrow's article Dr. Daffoe discusses the danger of colds in connection with adenoids and tonsils.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will love you to dance and parties. BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls who are full of pep. So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "ambling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders. You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

There you sit in a seat like an easy chair, comfortable as a puppy on his pillow. The wheel in your hand has a fine and friendly feel—the treadle under your foot is a pressing invitation to travel. ## Blonde To Tell Story On Stand

Will Relate What She Knows Concerning Espionage Ring In U. S.

WAS COMPANION OF FUGITIVE DEFENDANT

(International News Service)
NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 26.—Blonde Senta De Wanger was scheduled to take the stand in federal court today to tell what she knows of German espionage activities in this country.

Although not a defendant in the current case, Miss De Wanger knew intimately several important figures in the spy ring, and she is regarded as one of the star witnesses for the government.

Her testimony is expected to lough lightly, if at all, upon Johanna Hoffmann, the German housekeeper on trial, and Erich Glaser, the ex-army private, but it was indicated she would strongly accuse Otto Hermann Voess, the third defendant.

Miss De Wanger's connection with the Nazi spy network stems chiefly from her close friendship with William Lomkowski, a fugitive defendant.

Lomkowski worked in an airplane factory where military aircraft were built until he was arrested at a German pier trying to smuggle photographs of aircraft plans aboard a departing liner. He then fled this country.

Guenter Gustave Barmich, the spy-turned-informer, returns today for additional cross-examination by George C. Dix, attorney for Miss Hoffmann.

Publicity Head Gives Women Some Pointers

Editors Want News When It Is New; Women's Club Federation Told

Do Something Vital If You Want Publicity; Cut Out Pin-Wheel Stuff

City editors and women's club editors won't have to frown any longer over club news that sounds like the secretary's minutes, illegibly written on both sides of the paper and submitted a week after the meeting took place, if the thousands of press chairmen throughout the country follow the instructions provided by the publicity department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Washington, D. C.

Miss Vella Albert Winner, director of publicity, who has written a book on the subject entitled "What Makes You Think So?", reminds press chairmen that newspaper editors have neither hooks nor horns, that they are just as interested in constructive, forward-looking movements as the club is, but that the only thing they have to sell is white space in their papers and so must fill it with news that is new and of interest to the largest possible number of readers.

She tells women's clubs that if they want publicity they must cut out pinwheel activities and do vital things; that they must write this news while it is new, double spaced, typewritten, using the time-honored A B C's—Accuracy, Brevity and Clarity.

"Don't tell the editor how to run his newspaper, don't demand space, don't complain because your article was cut or re-written," admonishes Miss Winner. "Don't try to put anything over on the editor. He knows all the answers."

Miss Winner received her newspaper experience through years of work as editor of club pages on large western newspapers and held important offices in city and state federations of women's clubs.

Police Pushing Drive To Halt Auto Molesting

Special Officers Trail Suspects In Auto Thefts And Stripping

REDOUBLED EFFORTS TO GET OFFENDERS

Apparently the alertness of a special squad of police assigned to ferret out persons responsible for auto theft and stripping here is having its effect.

No cars were stolen since 1 a. m. Monday when an auto was taken from East Grant street, damaged in order to place it in operation and found 10 hours later in Youngstown.

Last night two youths who were allegedly pilfering with an auto parked in South Mill street were apprehended. One of the lads was seized by the auto owner.

Chief of detectives Ray Showalter and Patrolman William Alliger in response to a "tip" arrived at the scene at the same time the owner took the lad into custody.

Another boy who was said to have been concerned in the pilfering was later taken into custody by Patrolmen Alliger and Price. They are being questioned concerning other thefts today.

Throughout Tuesday night police in cruisers and other cars visited dark and lonely sections, such as George Washington field, Gaston park, Cascade park and other sections.

A hurried visit was made to Gaston park when a "tip" said a suspicious car had driven into the park. It was gone when the police arrived. Apparently the car was not parked there very long.

Chief of Police Criswell has instructed the police to watch around hotels, theaters and other places where citizens may be congregated.

Charge Attempt To Wreck Auto

County Detective Causes Arrest Of Wurtemberg Man After Auto Explosion

Charged with malicious mischief, Carl Van Houten, of Wurtemberg, pleaded not guilty today before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing on an information laid by County Detective Paul A. Welsh. Welsh and Constable Frank Conner arrested Van Houten Tuesday charging him with the attempted destruction of the automobile and trailer of William Mattingly who lives near Wurtemberg.

According to the information given Mr. Welsh, the housekeeper of Mattingly woke up about 4 o'clock Monday morning when she heard an explosion. Rushing outside she flashed a light on a man who ran when discovered.

Welsh alleges Van Houten placed either a stick of dynamite or a heavy charge of powder on the gas tank of the Mattingly automobile. The explosion blew a hole in the gas tank and the body of the car. The interior of the car was wrecked, but the trailer was unharmed.

Alderman Ewing set bail at $2,000 for a hearing Friday morning.

Mr. Welsh also arrested Rose Frank, 19, on a charge of incorrigibility and placed the case before Alderman James C. Brice. Nick Tosti, a brother-in-law, was also arrested in connection with the case.

Grover's Prepare To Meet Teachers

Coach Loveless Rests Varsity Players, Encouraged By Win At Allegheny

GROVE CITY, Oct. 26.—Stunning blows were given the crimson team today when it was learned that both Grover coaches, Nick Maddalena and Joe DePrimo, had suffered injuries in the Allegheny game that kept them out of uniforms next Saturday for the important Slippery Rock game. Both boys have been mainstays in the rugged Grover line for three seasons, playing almost 60 minutes of every game, and their loss is practically a death-blow to the crimson chances in the backfield rivalry game with the Rockets.

Convinced that he will lose both varsity tackles, Coach Loveless plans to shift Ray Myers from guard to Maddalena's left tackle position, and to use George Ketter at the other tackle. Bish and Heck will fight it out for the guard vacancy.

Squad Rested
All members of the squad who saw action at Meadville Saturday were rested yesterday, while minor injuries were given a chance to heal. Coach Loveless worked with freshmen who were ineligible for the Allegheny game and gave particular attention to Bill Perry, Bill Weber and Bud James, fresh halfbacks, and Liggett, end. The yearling ball carriers will see plenty of action, since Bob Bingham took a severe beating at Meadville, when replacements were not available.

Grove City's clean-cut victory over Allegheny revealed a vast improvement in all departments of crimson play, with particular honors going to Jim Taylor, a sophomore playing his first season of college football, and to the veteran Bob Bingham. It is probable that Taylor will carry the burden of the attack against Slippery Rock, since the youngster is developing into a stand-out ball-carrier. Bud James, Erie freshman, is also expected to be in line, after an injury of two weeks ago.

N. Y. A. Quintet Booking Games

Falls, business manager of the team at phone 3993 or calling at the Greer Building, Room 415.

The N. Y. A. boys have signified their intention of joining the proposed city basketball league being organized by Franklin R. Orsini at the present time.

Small Game Season Opens Next Monday

Male Ringnecks, Wild Turkeys, Rabbits And Squirrels, May Be Shot

MAY SHOOT ONLY 20 RABBITS IN SEASON

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—It's here again—that season of the year when hunters follow bird dogs across autumnal marshes and through upland covers in Pennsylvania.

The vanguard of a half-million hunters in Pennsylvania, anxious for the first gunning of the fall, saw the opening of the initial season on rabbits and quail, and colorful marsh birds, on September 1, which was a mere warm-up for successful game seasons in the commonwealth.

On October 1, the season opened on woodcocks, another migratory game bird, controlled by federal law. Other seasons the state and federal commissions have decreed for Pennsylvania sportsmen this year are:

October 15 to November 28—Ducks and geese, jacksnipes and rails. Best gunning country for ducks and geese: The lakes of the northwest: Conneaut, Pymatuning, Conneaut and Lake Erie, and the marsh lands of the Delaware river.

November 14 to November 19—Bear season, with game commission reports indicating bears are plentiful in the north-central mountain counties, from Snyder, Centre and Clearfield, to the Poconos, and north to the New York line. Limit—one to a person; two to a party of five or more.

Ruffed Grouse Season
October 31 to November 12—Small game with the following limits: Wild turkey, one a day and one a season. Ringneck pheasant, two a day; 10 a season; for males only. Rabbits, four a day; 20 a season. Squirrel, six a day; 20 a season. Gordon pointed out that the turkey season, closing one day after Thanksgiving, gives hunters an opportunity to provide their holiday table with fare in the pioneer manner.

October 31 to November 26—Small game with these limits: Wild turkey, one a day and one a season. Ringneck pheasant, two a day; 10 a season; for males only. Rabbits, four a day; 20 a season. Squirrel, six a day; 20 a season. Gordon pointed out that the turkey season, closing one day after Thanksgiving, gives hunters an opportunity to provide their holiday table with fare in the pioneer manner.

October 31 to November 10—Raccoons, two a night or 10 a season. November 23 to December 3—A one-week open season on antelope deer only (does and young bucks) in all counties. Limits, one a season to a hunter; six to a party of six or more.

Trapping seasons are:
November 15 to January 31—Minks, opossum and skunks.
December 1 to January 31—Raccoons.

December 1 to January 31—Trapping in these counties only for otters and beavers: Otter—Monroe, Pike, Susquehanna and Wayne; beavers—Centre, Clearfield, Jefferson, Luzerne, Monroe, Pike, Susquehanna and Wayne.

The Canadian champion Bluenose and the American challenger Gertrude L. Thebaud met today for the international fisherman's trophy emblem of sailing supremacy on the North Atlantic. Each schooler has won two races and today's event will be the final.

Floor League Is Promising

Six Teams So Far Signify Intention Of Joining Fast City League

That New Castle is going to have a fast and strong City Basketball league this winter was shown by the enthusiasm and interest of the six managers of the various independent teams who gathered with Frank Orsini at the "Y" last night for a meeting.

Nothing has been heard as yet from the K. Pulaskis or Polish Falcons, but they are expected to join the proposed circuit. The following teams had men at the meeting last night: Union Civics, Gersons, N. Y. A., Keystone A. C., Mahoning A. C., and the Brown Bombers. It is planned to use the Arena floor. It is hoped that another couple of teams can be secured to make it an eight-team league. Another meeting will be held in a week or two to perfect an organization.

Martins Ferry Train Tickets Placed On Sale

Charles Wetmore, passenger and freight agent for the Pennsylvania railroad, through Frank L. Orth, principal of Senior high school, today announced that the tickets for the special football train to Martins Ferry, O., on Saturday, November 12, have been placed on sale.

The ticket will be $1.75 for the round trip and may be had at the Senior high school, Sporting Goods Store or the P. R. R. West Side station. It was announced.

It will be necessary to sell 300 tickets to insure the operation of the special football train.

The New Castle high team, a party of about 50, the New Castle high band of over 100 pieces, and fans and students, will ride the train. So far the high school has taken over 150 tickets for the team and band, leaving but 200 more for a special train.

The train will leave here at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and get to the Ohio city around 12 o'clock noon. It will take about two hours and forty-five minutes, and the distance by rail is 85 miles.

Church League To Meet On Thursday

Another meeting of the New Castle church basketball league managers will be held at the "Y" on Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. It was announced today by Henry MacNicholas, Assistant General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. here.

This will be the 13th year for the Church floor league and a successful season is in prospect with many fine teams. Practice sessions will be assigned Thursday and contracts will be given the managers.

The following teams have already entered the league: First Christian, First Baptist, Central Presbyterian, First M. E., Calvary Presbyterian, Third U. P., while several more are expected to have representatives at the Thursday meeting.

House League At 'Y' Organizing

There will be a good six-team House League at the "Y" this year, according to an announcement by Assistant General Secretary Henry MacNicholas today.

A meeting will be held in a few days to organize the league. Informal teams are being formed in the "Y" in the Young Men's classes by the basketball committee.

The organizations almost sure to join the league are: Business College, Penn Power and the A. Z. A. club.

The league last year was a big success and a better league is looked for this season.

Hockey Team Is Practicing

The Roller Rink hockey team is hard at work these nights getting in shape for the opening game of the year on October 29, with the Twin Willows at the Neshaunock Avenue rink.

The manager of the team is Robert Mason, and he has the following players trying out for the various positions: Fred Leach, Charles Kennedy, Ralph Cruty, Fred Shuster, Jimmie Poplar, Happy Earl, Jim Herberg, Claire Cooper, Cliff Wygant, Floyd Marcus, George Murdock, Robert Hoenschell, Floyd Ramsey, Harold Sitt, William Bueckley.

The sport is comparatively new in these parts, but is widely played in some parts of the country.

Titans To Play Thiel Saturday

Westminster Will Be Seeking To Break Into Win Column

TEAMS IN TIE IN LAST FALL'S GAME

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 26.—Seeking their first win of the season and revenge for last year's 14-14 tie game, the Westminster Titans will play host to Coach Stoebel's Thiel eleven in the annual Days Day tilt at New Wilmington, Saturday, October 29.

Coming out of the Youngstown game with only minor bruises, Coach Washabaugh's varsity will spend the week attempting to bolster an offense which sagged badly against Dike Beede's Penguins.

Consistently good line play by Youngstown bottled up Washabaugh's new backfield quartet, and the Titan menior may give his freshman ball carriers their second chance against the Tomcats. Practice on offensive timing and blocking should give yearlings Edwards, Hall, and Pollock, and veteran quarterback Leposki a chance to gain through a heavy Thiel line.

Losses to Bethany, Slippery Rock and Youngstown, and a tie with California Teachers face the Titans at the season's half-way mark, while Stoebel's men made a reversal of form last week by defeating Hiram, after dropping tilts to St. Vincents, Hardwick and Clarion Teachers.

Bessemer Drills For McDonald Team

Class B Champs Hope To Annex Sixth Triumph; Union Battles Mars Friday

Bessemer high's 1938 Class B champions of Lawrence county meet another major foe Saturday afternoon at Bessemer battling McDonald high.

The Cement City came out of the Shenango tussle minus injuries and will be in good mid-season shape. Bessemer, undefeated to date, will be out to cop its sixth victory and keep intact a record of 18 games minus a defeat. Saturday's game starts at 2:15 o'clock.

Friday afternoon at Union township, Union high's Blue and White club machine tackles Mars high in what promises to be one of the fastest tilts on the Scotland Laner's schedule this season.

Kern And Tech Players Forgive Referee Getchell

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26.—In keeping with gridiron sportsmanship, Coach Bill Kern at Carnegie Tech today took back all the mean things he said about referee Johnny "Corrigan" Getchell of Minneapolis who called the wrong down in the Tech-Notre Dame game last Saturday.

"Let's forget the whole thing, consensus of our squad and myself," Kern telegraphed Getchell.

The University of Nevada's football squad has asked for the resignation of Head Coach Doug Bashell, Director of Athletics J. E. Marjic, and Assistant Coach Duane Keller. The action was precipitated by the loss of the last two games.

House League At 'Y' Organizing

There will be a good six-team House League at the "Y" this year, according to an announcement by Assistant General Secretary Henry MacNicholas today.

A meeting will be held in a few days to organize the league. Informal teams are being formed in the "Y" in the Young Men's classes by the basketball committee.

The manager of the team is Robert Mason, and he has the following players trying out for the various positions: Fred Leach, Charles Kennedy, Ralph Cruty, Fred Shuster, Jimmie Poplar, Happy Earl, Jim Herberg, Claire Cooper, Cliff Wygant, Floyd Marcus, George Murdock, Robert Hoenschell, Floyd Ramsey, Harold Sitt, William Bueckley.

The sport is comparatively new in these parts, but is widely played in some parts of the country.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Brosius Watt Raskowski, Friend of C. W. Johnson, sports editor of the Meadville paper, who watched Pittsburgh Panthers crush Southern Methodist, plus a bouquet of crickets, Walter Raskowski, local griddier, Johnson says the scribbles seem to be trying to boom the "dream backfield" for All-American honors and forgetting the front trench which makes possible the long gains. Johnson at bat: What the Pittsburgh sports writers should do sometime is to come down out of the press box and sit in the stands—and hear what the spectators have to say about such line-men as Daddio and Raskowski.

Sports fodder.—New Castle high school's Red Hurricane basketball team opens the 33-34 season December 13, playing at Meadville. Should the Bessemer high school football team finish the season undefeated, the Cement City "Juggernaut" cannot win the Class B championship. The flashy local eleven does not play enough league games during the season to be considered for the coveted laurels. "Buy" Reiser, former Cane basketball wizard, has already donned his basketball uniform at Duquesne and is doing quite well.

A couple of didya know?—Marshall "Biggie" Goldberg, All-American back at Pitt, actually blushes when the name of Olivia DeHavilland, screen actress, is mentioned in conversation. She's his favorite. When the Pitt ace comes to picking beauties he also is an All-American.

Sports bias.—Sid Luckman, are member of Columbia's pitching staff is being compared with the greatest and passers of all time. No wonder! Pipe those figures: Four games, attempted 62 series, completed 42 for a batting average of .512. Said heaves good for 507 yards for a little better than 12 yards per pitch. Is it true, that Pie Traynor is bidding for the services of Al Lopez? Primo Carrera, who once wore the heavyweight title, has been signed for a minor part in an Italian movie.

After looking at infielders in both major leagues.—Tony Lazzeri, former Yankee second baseman, has asked for his release as a Chicago Cub coach and utility man to try and land a job as a regular on some club.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Usually it is the coach who asks a football player to quit the team but things are different at the University of Nevada, the gridder having petitioned Doug Bashell, the coach to resign. In addition they also asked the resignation of Line Coach Duane Keller and Dr. J. E. Marjic, athletic director and head of the physical education department.

Trade rumors are buzzing loud in Washington and the talk is that the Detroit Tigers are trying to get Shortstop Travis. They would like to acquire him either through the cash or player route. Clark Griffith, owner of the Senators, has not committed himself relative to the rumors.

Tony Lazzeri has received his unconditional release from the Chicago Cubs. He asked for it recently. He joined the Cubs last spring after obtaining his outright release from the Yankees. At that time President P. K. Wrigley said Lazzeri had been signed as a player and coach and it was predicted at that time that he would step into the managerial role should Charley Grimm be ousted. Grimm was ousted but Tony Lazzeri got the job and Lazzeri rested on the bench.

The Cesarwitch, over two and a quarter miles with one American-owned horse among the 28 lightbreds, will be run at Newmarket today. The race usually worth only about $15,000, will determine the distribution of approximately $7,000,000 in the Irish Hospital sweepstakes. Probably another million will be wagered. Solomons is a 10 to 1 favorite. O'Connell, owned by William Woodward of America, was considered a 22 to 1 chance.

The University of Nevada's football squad has asked for the resignation of Head Coach Doug Bashell, Director of Athletics J. E. Marjic, and Assistant Coach Duane Keller. The action was precipitated by the loss of the last two games.

Stock Market
Sagging TodayReaction After Five Days
Of Increasing Prices
Is SeenBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The stock market sagged today after its sustained advance through the five preceding sessions. Losses ran from one to three points and trading was at a moderately active pace.

Outstanding development was the enormous turnover in Packard and the sympathetic firmness in low-priced motor shares as the rest of the market rapidly lost ground.

The hour sales of Packard amounted to more than 1,000 shares, accounting for better than 27 per cent of the total market volume in that period. Blocks running to 20,000 shares changed hands, one string accounting for 45,000 shares. The stock was up 1 1/2 to 5 1/4 at one time.
